

IN PARTNERSHIP WITH

WHO WE SERVE

We Provide support for people with Congenital Melanocytic Nevi (CMN) and Neurocutaneous melanocytosis (melanosis) (NCM) and their families.

OUR VISION

Nevus Outreach is the recognized source for those affected by CMN, NCM, and related disorders.

OUR MISSION

Nevus Outreach is dedicated to bringing awareness, providing support, and finding cures for people affected by congenital melanocytic nevi and related disorders.

How skin conditions
IMPACT patients

There are several types of nevi: epidermal, melanocytic and connective tissue nevi. Nevus Outreach deals with large and giant congenital melanocytic nevi. Large, in nevus terms, is generally bigger than the palm of your hand. Congenital means it is present at birth. Melanocytic means that it is pigment-based.

OUR STORY

Nevus Outreach was founded in 1997 by three families of people with giant nevi and has since worked tirelessly to improve the lives of people with CMN. The Board of Directors is located throughout the USA and the CMN Consortium bring together top melanocytic nevi physicians worldwide to share research and shape best practice.

HOW WE MAKE AN IMPACT

Our flagship event is our international conferences and reunion. The bi-annual international conference and reunion connects affected families, scientists, researchers, and other interested supporters.

In addition to our conference, we provide services to keep our community connected, such as a membership, access to psycho-social resources, connection to medical professionals, and virtual experience opportunities.

We work tirelessly to advance research and make sure up-to-date information about current research and medical discoveries are available to members and other interested parties, with a specific focus on collecting data from people with CMN and NCM and funding medical research that pertains to CMN and NCM.
